

MARONITE EPARCHY OF AUSTRALIA NEW ZEALAND AND OCEANIA

ED 2023/008

EPISCOPAL DECREE

Holy Days of Obligation and Feast Days in the Maronite Eparchy of Australia, New Zealand and Oceania

(REVISED)

On Holy Days of Obligation, the faithful are required to attend the Divine Liturgy of the Eucharist. These are special occasions when the parish comes together as one, in sacred time, in order to worship and thank God for His graces to us. Accordingly, with pastoral care for the faithful, and in response to requests for an authoritative episcopal statement on Holy Days of Obligation in the Maronite Eparchy of Australia, New Zealand and Oceania, I promulgate the following rules and exhortations:

1. Each Sunday is a Holy Day of Obligation

All Maronites are required to attend the Sunday celebration of the Divine Liturgy.

Note: The liturgical day commences the evening before the calendar day; therefore, attending a Saturday Vigil (that is, a Saturday evening Liturgy at which the liturgy for Sunday is celebrated), is counted as attendance at the Sunday celebration of the Divine Liturgy.

2. Immovable Holy Days of Obligation

Attendance at the Divine Liturgy is obligatory for all Maronites on the following feast days (or corresponding vigil). These Holy Days of Obligation are to be observed on the day they fall, regardless of what day of the week, and hence are described as "immovable."

6 January	The Epiphany
9 February	Saint Maroun
15 August	The Assumption of the Virgin Mary
14 September	The Exaltation of the Holy Cross
25 December	The Nativity of the Lord, Christmas Day

3. Movable Holy Days of Obligation

Maronites who are unable to conveniently attend the Divine Liturgy on the day of the feast may satisfy their obligation by attending on the Sunday which follows:

(The Thursday 40 days after Easter)	The Ascension
29 June	Saints Peter and Paul
6 August	The Transfiguration of Our Lord

4. Local Holy Days of Obligation

Maronites living within a parish named after one the following saints or feasts, are obliged to attend the Divine Liturgy on the relevant day (or corresponding vigil). If the relevant parish is holding its major celebration of that feast on the following Sunday, then those faithful may satisfy their obligation by attending on that Sunday. Only the relevant parish is allowed to celebrate the feast on the Sunday following.

19 March	St Joseph
23 March	St Rafqa
23 April	St George
3rd Sunday of July	St Charbel
14 September	Christ the Redeemer (The Exaltation of the Holy Cross)
24 September	Our Lady of Mercy
26 September	St John the Beloved
22 October	St John-Paul II
18 November	St Raymond
14 December	St Nehmetallah

All Maronites, wherever they may live, are encouraged, but not obliged, to sanctify the above feasts by attending the Divine Liturgy at the pertinent church.

Note: As further parishes are opened, this list shall be expanded.

5. Liturgical Celebrations at which Attendance is Highly Encouraged

We highly encourage the faithful to attend the Divine Liturgy and/or liturgical celebrations on the following days:
